Paul C. Kirchman's Extended Illness Ends In Death

Paul Conrad Kirchman, 51, son of an Iowa pioneer in the Glades, and himself an active builder of this agricultural empire, succumbed Thursday night April 6, to an illness which kept him in Good Samaritan hospital for ten weeks. A native of Sumner, Iowa, he had resided in the Belle Glade area 39 years.

While schooling in winter vegetable production at the hands of his father, Mr. Kirchman was an early convert to the advantages of best production and his death leaves a record of service to that industry.

State Officers Meet With Legion Sunday

The American Legion and its auxiliary of the Ninth District, including Indianwood, Okeechobee, Clewiston, South Bay and Belle Glade, will meet at the Palm Beach and Broward counties, will hold their Ninth Annual Constitutional Conference at Lake Worth on Sunday in the home of the Carl Vogel-Demall Post.

Deputy District Commander "Long" John Lechridge and Department Adjutant Laddie Dowton will be honor guests for the occasion. These officers are considered a "prize" at a district convention as Legion meetings and activities throughout the state during this time of year are very demanding on time for these officials.

Mrs. Mildred Larrick will attend as President of the Belle Glade, Auxiliary, and Bill Hearn will act officially for the Legion Post.

A motorcycle of Glades Legionnaires is expected to attend the meeting.

"Continue To Be Fully Accredited" Is Recommendation On High School

"Your evaluation - a pedagogical word for investigation, study, criticism and suggestion - appears to me to be practical, effective and provocative of professional growth," a local citizen told the Evaluation Committee at the occasion of its public presentation of its various reports last Friday.

He further said, "It appears to me in that it follows the thought of self-analysis by comparison to ideals, of the individual as well as composite professional ideas of a 'total school' program, with consideration for student, teacher and the public."

For the past year, the Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School staff has been doing a self-evaluation of all aspects of its total school program. The climax of this study came last week when 21 outstanding educators from throughout Florida visited the school for three days and reviewed the criteria compiled by the staff and student body, visited classes, had parent conferences, visited lay people, and toured Belle Glade and the surrounding areas. Their visit and evaluation were concluded with the presentation of the summary report of their findings Friday afternoon in the High School Auditorium with the public, students, and faculty present.

The committee announced that their recommendations to the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools at its next annual meeting be that Belle Glade Junior-Senior High School continue to be fully accredited by the association.

Dr. Herman Frick, coordinating chairman, as well as many of the committee expressed publicly that the advanced organization, study materials, and co-

U. S. 27 Highway Gets Consideration

The recession has brought something good to the Glades folks - a realization by West Palm Beachers that U. S. No. 27 is in Palm Beach County, and MIGHT influence a dollar in business.

The West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce has asked the County Commission to "seek immediate improvement of 27 between Clewiston and Belle Glade. Leon Goldsmith told the Commission that the "bad condition of the road was driving business to Ft. Lauderdale."

Chamber Promotes Clean-Up Fix-Up City Wide Plan

Secretary I. L. Price of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce has been instructed by his Board to organize a campaign of "Clean Up Belle Glade" and is contacting merchants and organizations inviting their cooperation.

Mr. Price is asking each organization to designate an individual who will serve on the city-wide committee to study plan and promote this campaign.

Also, according to Mr. Price, there is a consideration of the effort to Consolidate Fund Raising Drives. Both subjects are suggested for the consideration of this special group.

Someone suggests that the SE corner of Main and the canal, as well as the NE corner at the same intersection will furnish excellent locations and subjects for a "Clean-up" campaign.

At a called meeting of the members of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida last Saturday with more than the 75 percent necessary attending, recommendations of the Board of Directors were adopted following Dr. Arthur G. Keller's discussion of his feasibility report.

The adopted procedures are:

(1) That a 5,000-ton daily capacity mill be erected, to operate an estimated 150 days and requiring 750,000 tons of cane; to cost an estimated $11,000,000;

(2) That the $11,000,000 needed, be obtained in the following manner:

- (a) 50%, or more, thru Bank financing;
- (b) 25% from the contractors, and/or suppliers;
- (c) 20% from the growers, or approximately $3.00 per ton of cane contracted;
- (d) 5% from sale of preferred stock.

The meeting also adopted policies that will:

Allow an increase of 15 percent to the present tonnage base of participating members;

Invite new growers, as well as present ones, membership and contracts to grow approximately 100,000 tons on land within two miles of the government levee.

The organization being a true Co-op, allows each member one voting privilege - the large and the small, the same - and previous authorization, had taken views for other regulations recommended by the Bank for of present participating member of a share of voting stock may continue to vote unless he is a producer of sugar cane sold to the Co-op. The preferred stock - totalling $550,000 - may be sold and held by anyone, and a provision that not to exceed 8 percent interest may be paid on it. The membership also heard reports that the Board, on previous authorization, had taken views for other regulations recommended by the Bank for

More than that, this increase in weekly debit was made with a record of 100 percent collections for the year to date.

"It is the Lord who goes before you; he will be with you and he will not fail you or forsake you; do not fear or be dismayed." (Deuteronomy 31:8, 19).

During a conference held in Sao Paulo, Brazil, I had many attention called to the differences in time indicated by many of the watches. The differences were not because of defects in the watches, but because of the different time zones. The delegates, both laymen and clergy, gathered there had set their watches in their own cities and towns before traveling to the conference.

This brought to mind the difference among men in religious matters. Each one thinks and believes according to the thoughts and beliefs of his model and master. It is also true that God's timepiece, that of love and justice, cannot be trifled with in the presence of darkness.

So that we have closer communion with God, let us set the watches of our faith according to Christ, because it is the unity that can bring harmony and His peace.

PRAYER: Gracious God, our dear Father, grant us always Thy companionship and the joy of salvation in Christ. Through Him lead us to harmony and peace. In His name we pray and give These thanks. Amen.

ABUNDANT LIFE

Have you ever tried to prune a quince bush? If you have, then you know how the tiny thorns prick at your fingers painfully as you grasp the branches.

But if you take hold of only one branch at a time and proceed with caution, the little thorns don't have enough strength to prick your fingers. Individually, the branches seem powerless against you. But when they are pressed together, they can crush you into defeat.

Here is a good example of strength through unity. One branch from the bush cannot do much harm. The thorns are there, all right, but they don't have much "bite." When they are pressed together, however, they have enough power to keep anybody out.

This can serve as a lesson. Church life's problems one at a time, and they are more easily overcome. But try to tackle all your problems at once, and you could be defeated by those problems.

Yet there is unity in strength, and this holds true in just about all situations. A group of dedicated people, pressed together with one common purpose in mind, has more power than do

Passion Play Season Ends At Lake Wales

The Black Hills Passion Play will end its 9th winter season at the Lake Wales Amphitheatre this Sunday, April 16.

Leroy Horton, Jr., President of the Passion Play Amphitheatre Corporation, said today that the audience for the 4 remaining performances on Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, will for the most part be composed of Floridians. This and the fact that the weather is warmer and more choice seats are available because there are fewer tourists here.

"Our attendance has been very good this season, and it is reaching 5,000 people this last week, as it did last year, this will be one of our record years," Horton added.

After this Sunday's performance, the 35 professional actors will begin the task of packing tons of costumes for their trip to the Black Hills of South Dakota to begin the summer season on June 11. All the livestock for the play, including camels, horses, sheep, and a donkey, will also be loaded in large moving vans for the long trip. The only group left behind to be the summer season, numbering more than 200, who are Lake Wales citizens. They stay in the community until next year, at which time they will again participate in the greatest story ever told - the last 7 days in the life of Christ.

HOW TO TACKLE LIFE'S PROBLEMS

The individuals within the group. If an individual set out to do the same thing, he might fail.

When we learn to handle life's problems one at a time, they aren't too difficult. It's when they accumulate and burden us down that their load may crush us into defeat.

But the Christian can take all of his problems to the One who has the power to cope with them—God in Heaven. God answers prayer. When we learn to take all our problems to God, we are on the best—and only—road to getting them solved.

God is our ever-present help in time of need. God wants to help us solve all our problems. He is the real Comforter. He understands all situations.

I always take my personal problems to God in prayer. I have problems just as you do. We all have personal problems that sometimes prick at our hearts overwhelmingly, just like the quince bush thorns.

How to tackle life's problems is to take them to God. God is good. He wants to help. He wants to solve our problems for us. All we have to do is ask and believe.

"Disappointed - Cautiously Hopeful" Says Green Of Gas And Sales Taxes

Sales tax collections for the month of March based on February sales amounted to $14,411,541.45, a decrease of $779,989.63, or 5.13 per cent under the $15,191,531.08 collected during the same month last year.

Total sales tax collections this fiscal year, July through March, amounted to $125,964,183.71, a decrease of $556,096.89, or 0.43 per cent under the $126,520,280.60 collected to date last year.

Gasoline tax collections during the month of March based on February sales amounted to $10,345,837.82, a decrease of 1.1 per cent under the $10,460,542.77 collected during the same month last year.

Total gasoline tax collection for the fiscal year, July through March, amounted to $90,416,254.98, an increase of $2,328,769.88, or 2.6 per cent over the $88,087,484.00 collected to date last fiscal year.

Naturally, these figures are disappointing, and indicate that the reported gradual upswing in the national economy so far has not been felt generally in Florida. We are cautiously hopeful.

It is obvious that some part of our present problem is purely psychological. It will take a little more time for those able to spend and invest to realize that basically Florida and the country are sound and that conditions will get better.

We have just made some comparisons by kinds of business that prove interesting. These figures show that some lines of business have done quite well.

Hi Physics Teachers Invited To Conference

More than 400 Florida educators are expected for a conference at Melbourne April 21-22 to discuss the future of the PSSC Physics Course, which is being taught more extensively in high schools of Florida than those of any other state.

Dr. J. Stanley Marshall, head of the Science Education Department at Florida State University and Conference chairman, said the principal guest speaker will be Dr. Jerrold Zacharias, professor of physics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Dr. Zacharias was instrumental in developing the PSSC course and for this work received the Oersted Medal in physics for 1960.

Approximately 225 Florida teachers who have taken training in teaching the course have been invited to the meeting, along with county school superintendents, supervisors, directors of instruction, science supervisors and others. Dr. Marshall said. Representatives of colleges, universities and industrial organizations will be on hand.

Discussions will cover whether the new course is suitable for poorer students, the availability of films and laboratory equipment, the physics teacher's load, cooperation of mathematics departments, and the success of PSSC-trained students in college.

The PSSC course - developed by the Physical Science Study Committee at MIT over a several years' period at a cost of several million dollars - emphasizes basic principles in place of gadgetry, Dr. Marshall said. About 85 percent of the high school physics students in Florida are now taking the course.

Conference expenses are being underwritten by D. C. Heath, publisher of the PSSC textbook; Modern Learning Aids, producer of the accompanying films; and by Macalester-Bicknell, manufacturer of the laboratory equipment. High school physics teachers coming to the conference will be reimbursed for travel and living expenses.

Ingenuity Of Old Age Defeats Youth

W. L. "Stinky" Cunningham, who once qualified as a proper member of the "young men's club," nationally known as "bawling" Ed Lyons, was picked by the young members of his club as the victim of a "bawling operation" on the bowling lanes in a challenge with "Weary Wierenga."

However, "Stinky" cunningly took a position of composure and thoughtfulness came up with an idea which allowed him to "bawling" Ed Lyons for an old man. His "sweeper" did the trick for twelve straight "strikes."

BULLETIN: Shell Research scientists reveal how they got 168.47 miles per gallon

One hundred and sixty-eight miles per gallon must be a world record. Like most world records, it took enthusiasm and hard work.

The two Shell scientists who hold this record have told us how they managed it. They have also added some tips on how you can increase your car's mileage. Not by using their own outlandish techniques. But by careful driving and today's Super Shell gasoline.

Dave Berry and Fred Schutte, in the rebuilt 1924 coupe which set the world mileage record. Its original frontal area was reduced by 75 per cent to cut down wind resistance.

SHELL scientists thrive on competition. Some years ago, an argument as to who could get the most miles out of a gallon of gasoline boiled up into a challenge. And Shell's Mileage Marathon was born.

Shell scientists have competed in this Marathon for several years. Not as a publicity stunt. But purely as a private contest. They use their own cars, time and money.

Not for everyday use
The best mileage recorded so far is a resounding 168 miles per gallon.

Many of the times contestants did to achieve this world record are not recommended for use on the public highway. But they do show some light on what makes a little gasoline go a long way.

Record-breaking car cost $35
Shell's record-breaking car was a highly modified 1924 coupe (see cut). It was rescued from a junkyard for $35.

The only requirements that had to be met to qualify for the contest were simple.

The car had to have four rubber-tired wheels. It had to weigh no less than 2000 pounds. It had to have at least 100-cu.-in. piston displacement. And it had to use gasoline that anybody could buy at a Shell service station.

After that, no holds were barred. The car that won used a standard carburetor from an old one-cylinder engine.

Tire pressures up to 110 pounds
Some contestants inflated their tires as high as 110 pounds per square inch to reduce road-wheel friction.

One push and wheels spin for 30 minutes
Since the contest and nothing to do with wear, many liberties

Such crazy pressures would, of course, be quite unsafe under normal road conditions—and hideously uncomfortable, too.

But, under Shell's carefully controlled Marathon safety rules, the only ill effects were an embarrassing breeze or two.

Pressure problems for the champs
Dave Berry and Fred Schutte, who eventually set the existing record, had to be satisfied with something less spectacular in the tire department.

Their coupe's heat-up tires couldn't possibly take more than 50 pounds. But there was a helpful old rule: divide in the old, wood-spoked wheels.

They took tires that were nearly a yard in diameter. This made the car forward an extraordinary 93% feet at every revolution.

Muffled radiator and no fan
Many competitors went as far as to remove their engine's water pump and generator to save engine load. But Berry and Schutte ignored this refinement.

However, they did muffle their radiator completely to save heat.

As anybody knows, all cars get better when properly warmed up. But they knew that fast warm-up is specially provided for in today's Super Shell. It contains a gasoline ingredient called "Pentane Mix." This acts to your engine much like kindling acts in a log fire.

NET Result: Your car delivers top performance in a hurry.

Knowledge passed on
When Marathon Day rolls around at Shell, there is certainly a picnic atmosphere at the testing grounds.

But remember that the Marathon is only a climax to months of serious work. Not everybody sets a record. But every contestant learns a little more about the care and feeding of automobiles.

Which, after all, is Shell's main job.

Eventually, every bit of this knowledge is passed on to you in the form of better products.

Today's Super Shell is a shining example. Thanks to continuous engine studies and mileage tests, Super Shell now contains a special mileage booster called Platformate.

Among Platformate's components are benzene, toluene and xylene. These three components alone release 11 per cent more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline.

The lesson is obvious. The first thing you do to get extra mileage is to put extra energy into your fuel tank, by using today's Super Shell. Then, if you want even more mileage, take these tips.

1. Don't race your engine when stationary. Every revolution is pure waste unless it is taking you somewhere.

2. Avoid jack rabbit starts. They waste gasoline by holding automatic transmissions in low gear too long.

3. Drive at moderate speeds. Your car uses about 40 per cent more gasoline at 40 mph than at 35 mph.

4. Keep an even speed. Ragged driving uses fuel without using the power it generates.

5. Keep tires up to their proper pressures. Soft tires soak up power like a sponge soaks up ink.

6. Get your Shell man to make these checks. Your carburetor should be adjusted periodically. Spark timing should be correct. Fuel filters and air cleaners should be clean. Brakes should be properly adjusted. And your thermostat must be in working order.

Use today's Super Shell and follow these suggestions. You may get as much as 30 extra miles per tankful. We can't guarantee this saving. But unless you're a millionaire, it's worth thinking about.
